

A Massively Parallel Self-Tuning Context-Free Parser

Authors: Eugene Santos

Abstract: The Parsing and Learning System(PALS) is a massively parallel self-tuning context-free parser. It is capable of parsing sentences of unbounded length mainly due to its parse-tree representation scheme. The system is capable of improving its parsing performance through the presentation of training examples.